the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995 (Department of Health 1996).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of the public sector, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required by the public. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public sector organisations, and the introduction of performance measures. The aim of this paper is to review the evidence on the effectiveness of these initiatives, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

2. Background

The public sector in the UK has been the subject of a number of initiatives in the 1990s, aimed at improving its efficiency and effectiveness. These initiatives have included the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public sector organisations, and the introduction of performance measures. The aim of this paper is to review the evidence on the effectiveness of these initiatives, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

The first initiative was the introduction of competition. This was done by allowing private companies to bid for public sector contracts. This has led to a number of private companies winning contracts, and has resulted in a number of public sector organisations being privatised. The second initiative was the restructuring of public sector organisations. This was done by merging a number of public sector organisations, and by creating a number of new public sector organisations. The third initiative was the introduction of performance measures. This was done by introducing a number of performance measures, and by requiring public sector organisations to report on their performance.

The aim of this paper is to review the evidence on the effectiveness of these initiatives, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector. The paper will first review the evidence on the effectiveness of competition, and then the evidence on the effectiveness of restructuring. Finally, the paper will discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

ORGANIZATIONS

Me and my RC ATTACHMENTS

BOFFO BEGINNING

The newly rejuvenated RCHS Drama Club made its debut in the fall of 1986 with two very different and satisfying one act plays: "I Know I Saw Gypsies" and "The Terrible Tattoo Parlor." Kim Bridgeman directed the former, a series of vignettes drawn from high school compositions, while Mr. Oates kept the lid on the latter, a farce about prank phone callers and the revenge that may happen to such trouble makers. All four RCHS classes were represented and both casts received audience acclaim. The drama club sponsored a writing competition in the spring, supported the choral boosters' musical and organized its troupe for a future in the spotlights.

Social activities included: Mothers' Tea, Daddy Date Night, Ideal Lady Night, Sunshine Dance, Installation of Officers and Freshmen Initiation. Student Council Promotes School Spirit

Student Council had many accomplishments this year. The singing valentines composed and delivered by the council were a big hit with the senders and the sendees. They also arranged class meetings and sent out questionnaires asking students their opinions on various subjects. One of these subjects was the return of Friday Noon

Cartoons which were returned with the help of Council. Getting students involved and excited about school was also a goal of Council. They organized many school spirit oriented activities. The Student Council is an important part of our school. Thanks, Council.

On November 15, 1986, the RCHS Spelling Team won the state championship for Class II. They defeated the other five finalist teams from around the state. The Hoosier Spell Bowl is sponsored by a group of citizens concerned with promoting academic excellence. The format of the contest is slightly different from that of the normal spelling bee. Each team has ten members. The first member of each team sits at a desk on the gym floor. The emcee pronounces the words, gives them in a sentence, and pronounces them again. The contestant writes the eight words, then is replaced by the next member. -Genny Jones-

Chaos

Chaos took on a new lustre during the 1986-87 school year. Now being published by Taylor Publishing Company, the RCHS yearbook was eased into the computer age by way of a new IBM PC. Much of the book was entered onto a floppy disk and then sent to Dallas where the company's typesetting and layout programs took over. The result was a more accurate and more contemporarily developed record of the school year. Many of the people are in the photo below and they represent those who shoot, edit, crop, write and compose the elements that make the Chaos. As the computer grows in its uses in journalism, both the yearbook and the school newspaper will grow accordingly.

Rensselaerien

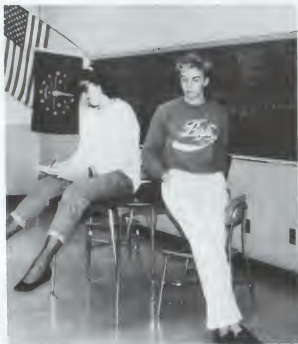

Journalism is a fast-changing communications medium, whether at the high school level or in professional publishing. The school newspaper has sought to come back during the 1986-87 school year with a sharp document published and transmitted by computer. With the help of a pc, the information can be stored, edited and then sent by phone to the publisher. As time moves on, more journalism students will communicate with the masses with the aid of the electronic typewriter, its memory and peripherals like the modem and printer.

As this happens, the Rensselaerien staff will stand ready to change with the times. Mass communications students (like Steffany Smith at left) spend many hours putting the finishing touches on RCHS publications.

This Year's Jazz Band Rates Superior in Contest

Bomber Brigade Moving Up

This year's Bomber Brigade moved to Class C marching competition. They showed their talent by making first ratings all during their marching contest season. The RCHS band worked hard during their marching season to make sure their season would be successful. Their hard work paid off when the Brigade took their marching show to The Class C State Marching Contest in Indianapolis, where they placed eighth out of ten bands. Thanks to James Earnest for his great work with the Bomber Brigade, who lead the Bomber Brigade for another the great season. The Bomber Brigade also celebrated a great concert season that made the school proud.

Bomber Alert Corps serves as a welcoming committee for school functions. They gave orientation tours and passed out programs for activities such as the Toma convocation. They also helped with the Bombers for Academic Excellence awards.

BAC also showed parents and grandparents around school on special visitation days. They sponsored the College Fair and were very helpful to students at that function.

TOMA

David Toma was welcomed to Rensselaer to tell the truth about drugs and alcohol. Rensselaer and four other schools, Tri-County, Kankakee Valley, South Newton, and North Newton were brought together in the RCHS gym to welcome and to appreciate what he had to say. Students from these schools cried, laughed, hugged, and made new friends. David Toma brought these five schools closer together than ever before.

SEVEN BRIDES FOR

The 1987 Rensselaer Central High School play, Seven Brides for Seven Brothers, was one of the most successful plays performed at RCHS in a long time. The combination of good humor and a large dash of country romance held the breaths of all ages that attended the production. The variety in the characters added that special glitter that makes a musical a success. The secret of the play's success was the outstanding acting abilities of every participant, with characters varying from shy to outspoken. The RCHS student thespians played each of their characters to the hilt, enabling our musical to be one of the high points of the school year.

On the opposite page, Gideon Pontipee (portrayed by Greg Michael) is singing his opinion of love. Far left is Susie Lintner, Heather Louck, and "Father" Peggy Karns. They are singing for the protection of their daughters who are being kidnapped by the Pontipee brothers. The lower center of these two pages are the stars of the play, Maureen Egan and Cary Hughes. Below is the entire cast of 7 Brides for 7 Brothers. Bottom right is a photo of Rick Stefanich, Greg Michael, and Jamie Ahler. They are showing off their athletic and aerobic abilities. Mrs. Cappuccilli's morning and afternoon college prep English classes visited local kindergartners to help them with Young Authors' Contest contributions. The seniors observed the rookie writers, collected the information, and then transcribed what the children could not. It was an enjoyable half day for each of the classes, as they tried to follow the six year olds' wandering trains of thought. The kids were "cute and forward" and the RCHS teams found the sojourn to elementaryland to be an enjoyable break.

Rensselaer Central's faculty members come from varied backgrounds to help add the bubbles to the RC. The principals, teachers, counselors, staff and all other "non-students" combined in 1987 to help promote Bomber Pride through the many facets of RCHS life. The faculty and staff watched as another group passed through the double doors and stand ready for the next batch of freshmen to enter. A tip of aluminum can to all who work together at RC.

Me and My RC means the 100% effort that keeps Bomber Pride moving. The custodial staff, matrons and the kitchen staff worked long hours to keep the RCHS community in good working order. Whether a warm room or a warm meal was needed, the job was performed. Have an RC on us! To the right is one of our trusty bus drivers moving to school on one of many fog days.

Are We Having Fun Yet?

To the right is a baseball bat. At the bottom center is a football. Surrounding these items are several cans, some with "RC" logos. The word "SPORTS" is written in large, bold, serif capital letters across the middle of the collage.

What a team! Have you ever seen a cross country meet? It is fun to watch and support the runners! Our CC team had a record of 6-4. They placed 3rd at sectional and 8th at regional. Most teams don't even make it to regional, but Rensselaer did. Mr. Edmonds was pleased with the performances of the runners, even though they had their share of injuries.

A member of the All-Conference team was Dick Marohl, also receiving Captain and Most Valuable. Steve Wilson was an Honorable Mention member of the All-Conference team. He also received Underclassmen award as did John Flatt. Ted Coley took the Service award.

GOLF TEAM IS NWHC CHAMPS

Bomber Girls Have 13-1 Golf Record

The girls golf team had an excellent season with a record of 13-1. A surprise was the winner of the McCutcheon Invitational. Mr. Stefanich thought that the team was a big surprise since it was very young. The team proved to be very outstanding to him by placing 2nd in sectional and 4th in regional.

For awards, Sr. Kristen Luecke received Captain and Most Valuable. Shauna Schaltenbrand took the Most Improved award. The Mental Attitude award was shared by freshmen Erin Beaver and Laura Stefanich.

This year's freshman football team shows another great season. Their record this year was 2-2-1 minus 2 games that were cancelled. The outstanding players were Scott Wing, Sean Kingman, Harold Wright, and Adam Vanderweilen. There were also several injuries this year which cost some players playing time from the field. Injured this year were Jeff Brandenburg, Tom Fleming, Tyler Todd, and Mike Lowry. Eventually these players returned from their injuries and played in the remaining games to help the freshmen make the season good. This season is the beginning of the freshman football team gridiron career.

Top right you see the freshman Bombers getting lined up for their next play; middle left you see the team making a gain as the referee calls the play dead, below you see the opponents getting ready to take a beating from our freshman team.

Varsity Football Wins Sectional

Everyone was surprised when the RCHS football team came from a losing season to a winning sectional. With a 2-6 season record, the Bombers beat Rochester. Rensselaer tied it at 21-21 which took us into overtime. Pat Day kicked a field goal, which let the Bombers beat the defending champs 24-21. Even though they lost at Regionals, Rensselaer was proud of the team. The football players would like to see their fans again next season.

The team placed 2nd in their own tourney.

There were 4 awards handed out by Coach McKim. Mike Putman received an award for Best FT%. An award was given to Scott Barton for the Most Rebounds. Tim Walker accepted the Best FG% award. Kenny Hickman got an award for the Most Assists.

FRESHMEN END SEASON WITH

THEY TRIED HARD

They tried hard. Even though the Boys Varsity Basketball Team ended with a 5-16 season, they tried hard. "They worked hard and never gave up," is what Mr. Probst said about his team. At the beginning of the season in the Turkey Tourney RCHS beat Kankakee Valley, our main rival, 59-58. Let's wish them good luck next year with 6 lettermen hopefully returning. Good Luck!

In the award category, Chad Maxwell received an award for Best FT%. Receiving the Best FG% and Most Rebounds awards was Mark Davisson. Mike Crowley was the man with the Most Assists award. Our "Robbie! Robbie!" was the Most Defensive Player.

SLUGGERS HAVE EXCELLENT SEASON

RAH! RAH!

Many people do not realize the importance of cheerleaders. They are the ones who support all the teams, lead the fans in cheers, and decorate the teams' lockers. The Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders went to cheering competition in Indianapolis. The Varsity placed 2nd and JV placed 3rd. Heather Lanoue (captain), Ann Messman, and Jodi Pullins have been cheerleaders for six years. Jennifer Phegley had been a cheerleader for five years and Lynn Meyer for three years. Lori Rude has been a cheerleader for one year. Lifters this year were Kelly Nelson (2nd year), Cary Hughes (2nd), Jamie Ahler (1st), Greg Michael (1st), Kevin Wing (1st), Mark Jordan (1st), and Rick Stefanich (1st). All the cheerleaders attended cheer camp at DePauw University. In competition the Varsity and JV received blue ribbons for their evaluations. The freshmen received red, white, and blue ribbons. Rensselaer received a megaphone for being one of the ten of the most spirited schools. On the final day Rensselaer was picked to be in the camp championship. Finally Rensselaer got picked by all other squads to receive the "The Spirit of Cheerleading" award.

GO BOMBERS!

The Freshmen and Junior Varsity squads are just as important as the Varsity squad is. They go to not only all the Varsity games, but also to the games that their own classmates play. Stacie Lanoue (captain) and Kris Nagel have been cheerleaders for four years. Julie Elijah and Stephanie Primeau have been cheerleaders for two years while Julie Whaley has been one for three years. For the Freshmen, Jodi Webb, Paige Arihood, and Julie Prather have been cheerleaders for three years. Jana Carroll has been a cheerleader for two years while Jenni Snyder and Donia Boring have been for one year.

The annual Fun Fest was held on May 8, 1987. Everyone that participated on this warm and sunny day had a barrel o' fun. The juniors won the overall day's activities, winning them a half day off from school.
